Editorial Contributor Guidelines

Copyright and Image Permissions

Document Reference: MSL-ED-001 Version: 1.0

These guidelines apply to all editorial content submitted to MSL Media Ltd for consideration across its print publications, websites, digital editions and social media channels. When submitting editorial content, please ensure you have the necessary rights and permissions to use all images, photographs, logos, graphics and other materials supplied.

By submitting editorial content to MSL Media Ltd, contributors warrant that they own, or have obtained, all necessary rights, licences and permissions to permit publication of the submitted material across MSL Media Ltd's print publications, websites, digital editions and social media channels. MSL Media Ltd publishes contributor-supplied content in good faith and relies upon the warranties provided by the contributor. MSL Media Ltd accepts no responsibility for any copyright infringement arising from materials supplied by third parties.

The contributor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless MSL Media Ltd against any claims, losses, damages, liabilities, costs and expenses arising from any breach of these warranties or from the unauthorised use of copyrighted material supplied by the contributor.
